13.30 Increasing the expression of compassionate values in society

Tom Crompton
Common Cause
Foundation

Research published by Common Cause Foundation in 2016 found that three-quarters of people in the UK prioritise 'compassionate' values over 'selfish' values. But most of us overestimate the importance fellow citizens place on selfish values and underestimate the importance that they place on compassionate values. This misperception is associated with lower civic engagement and community cohesion, lower concern about social and environmental issues, and lower wellbeing. Tom will describe a project underway in Greater Manchester to begin to reverse this situation, working with organisations including Manchester Museum.

14.:30 Networking break

15.00 World Values Day: Values Challenge

Charles/Alan/Lindsay/Liz
UK Values Alliance

A chance to pilot the new team/organisations module developed in collaboration with the Forward Institute and the RSA for World Values Day. We will select one of our values (Compassion, Learning, Collaboration, Empowerment, Making a difference) and use one hour to come up with at least one change that will close the gap between this stated value and what we do in practice in the UK Values Alliance. This process and its supporting materials are available for use with teams and organisations in the lead-up to World Values Day.
